2002 The Center for Arts Criticism begins the legal work of changing its name to that of In Progress. The board of directors get organized. Mission statement, and bylaws are revised to reflect the existing nature of the organization. Programs grow to serving well over 1000. 2003 In Progress moves into a studio unit that is 500 sq ft in diameter. The move is rough, and presents some serious growing pains for the young artists charged with renovating and supervising the space.

history — In Progress
A Short History of Progress argues that this modern predicament is as old as civilisation. Only by understanding the patterns of progress and disaster that humanity has repeated since the Stone Age can we recognise the inherent dangers, and, with luck, and wisdom, shape its outcome.
